Sprint 1:

Completed Tasks: 6

Hours Spent: 21 Hours

Uncompleted Tasks: 2

Sprint 2:

Completed Tasks: 25

Hours Spent: 45 Hours 30 Minutes

Uncompleted Tasks: 0

As a team we started off pretty good with our first sprint that was only one week in duration. Out of the eight overall tasks we completed six. The other two tasks proved to be problemsome and required more time than originally expected. These two tasks were finished in our second sprint in which we were successful planned the amount of tasks that as a team we could take on. We completed all 25 tasks that we started the sprint with and totalled up 45 and a half hours of work time towards the sprint in the two week period.

The team was overly ambitious with the tasks that we selected for our second sprint but we owned up to our decision and put in the effort to deliver the tasks that we committed to. The first two sprints ended up being great learning experiences and as a team I think we have a better idea of how many tasks we should commit to for each upcoming sprints.
