As a team we have developed a rhythm in which we finish all tasks that we commit to. This can be quite stressful and we are proud that we have been able to execute the sprints in the way that we have been. We completed all 19 tasks in Sprint 3 with a total of 65 hours and 30 minutes spent during those 2 weeks. In sprint 4 we ran into one or two roadblocks with some last minute API changes and some unplanned tasks that came up during the sprint that were accomplished. This ended up being 31 tasks that were completed and 2 that were not completed. A surprising total of 84 hours and 45 minutes was committed to the progress that was achieved in sprint 4. Both sprints were a total of 31 story points and this is directly proportional with the amount of time our team racked up working during the sprints.

A result of us executing our sprints in the way that we have has allowed us to be able to have all core functionality of the application done for the end of quarter presentation to our clients.
